CLENNETT'S MITRE 10

ASHLAR WALLING

Yorkshire random ashlar stone is a natural sandstone product. Ideally suited to a landscape or feature wall incorporating an open fireplace or TV.

This sandstone product has a natural finish on all five sides and a sawn back, together with L-shaped corners.

STRATA WALLING

Our Hotham walling stone is a natural granite, perfect for residential and commercial landscape designs.

Hotham walling products provide an innovative approach to natural stone cladding. Loose pieces are split on the face and smooth on the back for easy application to suitable substrates.

This product is available with pre-cut corners, eliminating mitred corners.

RANDOM WALLING

Peninsula random walling stone presents a color and texture not dissimilar to local granite.

This random stone lends itself to a mortar joint. Any grouts or mortar colours need to be carefully considered.

Average thickness for all products are approximately 30 mm.
